

though often destructive -- stole nothing. Even from her portable safe, drilled into and torn apart, the contents -- the jewelry -- remained untouched," writes Conger.

Vurbeff experienced someone telling her that she would be harmed according to the news report. Such warnings, often seeming too bizarre to understand at the time, is another tactic used on and reported by TIs.

Conger writes:

“ Vurbeff says her troubles didn't start until she met two men.

One would become her ex-boyfriend; the other was his partner in a San Antonio pain clinic, Dr. John Hall.

Vurbeff said: "The very first time I met him, we went to his house on the Fourth of July, and he told me that because I was already there in his house, that I would be the next victim, that I would be stalked."

Vurbeff found the doctor's prophecy to be correct. She suffered months of oddness:

Lights left on. Doors open. Furniture moved. Her clothes dryer disassembled. Her friends said they noticed the strange happenings. They tell the I-Team they even witnessed a gas oven left turned on.

it was made in 2008

"As soon as you walked in the house, you smelled gas," one friend said. "The whole house smelled of gas. Immediately turned it off, opened up the doors, but that thing doesn't turn on by itself. And it had been running a good length of time."

Another friend said she and Vurbeff were stalked at a mall.

Assaults including rape due to no support by Coincidence Therorist family, friends and 'caring' professionals

In many of these TI cases, targets are abandoned, left out in the cold alone to try to survive due to disbelieving "Coincidence Theorist" family, friends and even professionals in the caring field that offer no support or protection.
