Here it is, between the Double Qoutes

"I'm not an addict and I don’t drink alcohol but I have been the victim of stalking, systematic and sustained psychological abuse and very serious slander. Your article was really insightful.

I have been psychologically abused for years by some very sick, devious and disturbed people. At one point, people used to repeat certain words and topics over and over again around me in order to sensitize me to these things. Then, I think what they were doing was spreading nasty rumours about me so that lots of other people would say and do certain things around me to see if I was going to react. If I did, they would take this as a sign of guilt so I made sure to ignore their stupid behaviour because I realised what these sickos were playing at. I refused to react even though people would try and get a reaction again and again by doing the same stupid things. It was creepy and obsessive and above all, really sad! Sad, that these pathetic people didn’t have anything better to do with their lives than to obsess about mine and to listen to malicious rumours and ridiculous lies!

Reading your article was amazing because you hit the nail on the head about this particularly underhand, cunning and devious form of psychological abuse. Your article was very insightful. Very well done.
